NEWS 6. A LITTLE KNOWN ARTISTIC PRACTICE IN JEWELRY!

Discover the new brand : Le Sibille

The historic Roman jewelry house Le Sibille, specialized in the micro-mosaic technique, is launching its new Wondergarden collection. Founded in 1990 by three women who decided to revive a century-old Roman tradition: micro-mosaics into their brand: LE SIBILLE. Modern, colorful and original, these jewelry are definitely on my wishlist !

Did you know? Micromosaic is an essential part of Roman culture. Romans used mosaics to decorate walls in villas, floors, table tops and other objects. This tradition was handed down for centuries up to the 1300s, when the increased need to preserve paintings from moisture found a solution in reproducing them with micromosaic.
